September 2011

artcarnival@oregonfast.net

September is back to school time at the Art Carnival, too, as we've planned lots of fun classes for you. Cathy will be back with another Stampscapes class; make that 2 Stampscapes classes. There will be a morning class for people who are experienced in the Stampscapes technique and an afternoon class for beginners. Liz will be here with another bookbinding class, this one for a lovely hardbound book that is pretty to look at and nice to hold in your hand. New card classes by Tracy and Pamela will involve new materials and new techniques. And I will be presenting another Copic class, a flower class and more stamping with Rosie's Roadshow stamps.

October 1st is World Card Making Day and we have information in the store for an international contest which could win you $1000 in prizes.

Winter hours: After Labor Day weekend, we will return to our winter hours, so come visit us:

Tuesday-Friday 10:00 - 5:30

Saturday 10:00-4:00

Visiting from out of town on our closed days? Give us a call during our regular hours and perhaps we can make arrangements for you to shop by appointment.

See you at the Carnival!

OPERATION
WRITE HOME

Come join us for our next OPERATION WRITE HOME card-making session on Friday, Sept. 23rd, at 10:30am. These cards will be sent to our armed forces overseas, so they can send greetings home to their loved ones. More information is available at the store.

Art Carnival Opens Art Gallery!!

The big news this month is that we are adding an art gallery.

Featuring art that is fun, funky and sometimes freaky, the "Sideshow Gallery" promises to be a great addition to our store. We will have unique art from Florence's most unique artists.

My goal is to have it up and running by mid-September, so come by and check it out!

Oregon Coast Art Traders

This group meets at the store at 10:30 on the 2nd Saturday of the month to swap Artists Trading Cards. Everyone is welcome to come trade or just come see what it's all about.

Coming Attractions

Following is a listing of our upcoming classes. Pop into the store to see the samples. To ensure your spot in class, pre-registration/payment is a must.

Wed., August 31 Rosie's Roadshow Christmas Card Workshop $1 card
1:00pm

These are the cutest little rubber stamps and they make up into easy, adorable cards. Get a head start on the holidays!
